TEXAS BOLT ORGANIZED

Democrats Unite to Beat Smith

New York Governor Branded
as "Traitor" and Tool of Tammany Hall

Leaders of Group Pledged to Hoover Declare They Will Swing 300,000 Votes

DALLAS (Tex.) July 17. (AP)—
Plans for anti-Al Smith organizations in every county in Texas were laid today at a meeting of some 100 bolting Democrats here. More than 300,000 votes for Herbert Hoover from the Democratic ranks were predicted by leaders in the November election.

SMITH DENOUNCED
The meeting, attended by many of the most prominent Democrats of Texas, was called for the purpose of planning a campaign to defeat Smith for President and to elect Herbert Hoover. That the meeting was harmonious was evidenced by addresses of more than a score of speakers who used the same topic, that of attacking the political character of the Democratic nominee, saying the political tactics of Tammany Hall and condemning the action of the National Democratic Convention in nominating the New Yorker as standard bearer of the party.

Virtually the only difference in the various speeches was the phrasing. Gov. Smith was called "a traitor to the Constitution of the United States, a tool of Tammany and an agent of the distilleries and saloons, whose purpose in obtaining the Presidency is the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and to let the bar of immigration down to the people of Southern Europe."

PURPOSES OUTLINED
The principal resolution adopted by the meeting is in the nature of a platform for the new organization. Its declarations in part follow:

"The purpose of this organization shall be the defeat of Gov. Smith for President and the wresting of Democracy from the grip of Tammany Hall, the organization which while claiming to be Democratic fought Samuel J. Tilden, fought Andrew Jackson, fought William J. Bryan, fought Woodrow Wilson and withheld its support from James M. Cox and John W. Davis."

"We resist the efforts of Tammany Hall to nullify the Eighteenth Amendment, to repeal the enforcement statutes throughout the States as was done in the State of New York, to scrap the Volstead Act and all enforcement regulations by the Federal government and then finally repeal the Eighteenth Amendment."

STICK BY DRY LAW
"We shall, as an organization, adhere to the Eighteenth Amendment."

With Raised Letters

MILWAUKEE, July 17. (Exclusive)—Marcella Calkins, 20-year-old Cheek (Wis.) girl, whose blindness since birth was overcome by six surgical operations in a hospital here, today saw her first motion picture show.

Accustomed to reading raised letters, the girl was puzzled by the subtitles, but expressed herself confident of quickly learning the visible alphabet. As yet she has been unable to read any of the letters written to her by her mother because of unfamiliarity with the script. There still remains for her the greatest thrill of her life, she says—that of seeing her mother for the first time.

Mrs. Calkins, wife of a Cheek alchemist, expects to come to Milwaukee in a few days.

Levine Wrecks Plane in Landing

CURTIS FIELD (N. Y.) July 17. (AP)—Charles A. Levine, first trans-Atlantic air passenger, "cracked up" his monoplane Columbia tonight on his third attempt to land after a twenty-minute flight.

Levine and Maj. A. L. Flemming, a passenger, crawled from the wreckage undamaged. Both wings of the famous machine were damaged, the landing gear was sheared off and the propeller smashed when, with Levine at the controls, the Columbia crashed into the heavy timber guard rail that surrounds the field. The rail is about two feet high.

BEVERLY HILLS, July 17.—(To the Editor of The Times): This poor explorer Noble, the way they are talking about him it's hard to tell whether he was saved or lost. This thing of being a hero about the main thing is to be known when to die. Prolonged life has ruined more men than it ever made.

Well, we can't tell much about election till the boys are both notified. I don't believe there will be much doubt, however, but what they will take it. We will soon be seeing whether preachers have influence or just endurance.

WILL ROGERS.

RAMONA BOWL FIRE-SWEPT

Scene of Annual Pageant at Helmet Destroyed;
Flames Peril Life Near San Diego

Caught in the creeping flames of a brush fire, the famed Ramona Bowl at Helmet, scene of the annual Ramona pageant, was destroyed yesterday afternoon.

One man is believed dying from burns thousands of acres of rich grazing land have been ruined, much property has been destroyed and San Diego, about twenty miles east of San Diego, is imperiled as the result of brush fire in San Diego county.

A fire was reported burning last evening over a part of the famous Yorba ranch on the west side of the Santa Ana River, near the Riverside county line.

EMBERS SMOLDER
Smoldering embers and small patches of forest remains remained last night to tell the tale of three forest fires which raged Sunday in the Angeles and Santa Barbara national forests.

Except for a brush and timber fire in the Sequoia National Forest, which broke out late Monday on the Kern River near Fairview, east of Porterville, Tulare county, was free of fires yesterday.

The helmet fire started near the Ramona Bowl yesterday morning and was thought to be under control. At 5 p. m., however, it broke into the bowl and swept about 400 acres of the Ramona Pageant Association property. The damage is chiefly to shrubbery.

The association met at once and decided on a program of replanting and irrigation which will have the amphitheater ready for the seventh annual staging of the pageant next spring.

FIGHT MIRAMAR BLAZE
Working out of San Jose, San Diego county, large crews of fire fighters battled the Miramar brush blaze, which still is burning on a mile front. It was reported "considerably checked" yesterday noon by Luther Gordon, county fire warden.

After its 4000-acre rampage Sunday this blaze is thought to have been brought under control, but a driving wind, however, blew the fire and Santee, in the path of the flames, is commanding every available man to aid in fighting the fire, said to be the largest in this district in years. Nearly 8000 acres had been burned over at noon.

The condition of J. C. Clark, burned when he was trapped in a brush fire on his property at Encanto, is reported critical.

County Supervisor Smith reported the Santa Ana River fire as having gained considerable headway before men could be recruited from Orange, Santa Ana and Redlands and sent to the scene.

STILL PATROLLED
Although the flames have been brought completely under control in both the Big Tujunga and Santa Anita Canyon fires, where approximately 225 acres were burned over, there is a force of 200 fighters patrolling the Tujunga area and seventy-five in the Santa Anita territory. It is reported by Chief Dispatcher Davis of the Angeles forest office.

FOREST AND BRUSH FIRE
LOSSES MOUNT IN NORTH
SAN FRANCISCO, July 17. (Exclusive)—California's 1928 forest and brush fire losses mounted today as the scourge of flames continued their destructive advance in virtually every timbered area of the State, despite the saving of one community from extinction.

The little town of Bray, situated between Weed and Klamath Falls, was threatened with an advancing blaze, which menaced its civic existence.

PRESIDENT-ELECT OBREGON OF MEXICO ASSASSINATED

Great General and Statesman Shot Down While Lunching in Capital Suburb as Victim of Generally Held Widespread Plot

Highlights from the life of Gen. Obregon are portrayed in a full page of pictures appearing on Page 8, Part 1 of this edition of The Times.

MEXICO CITY, July 17. (AP)—President-elect Alvaro Obregon of Mexico, called "Lucky" Obregon because he had so often escaped death on the battlefield or by assassination, died violently at last today.

Like so many of those who have been President or have headed governments of Mexico, he was the victim of an assassin. He was shot down as he sat at a banquet given him by his political supporters at the little town of San Angel, near Mexico City, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Police said tonight that the assassination was only one of a series planned by which a number of the leading statesmen of Mexico were to have been removed.

The one-armed warrior-President, with six bullet wounds in his body, died in a few moments without speaking a word, and in the greatest agony. His assassin, known as Juan Escapularis, was captured, almost torn apart by maddened friends of the slain general, and taken to jail where he confessed his crime.

Tonight many of those who were known to have been opposed to Gen. Obregon had fled Mexico City before the fury of his friends and supporters who were kept in bounds only by the stern vigilance of police and soldiers who patrolled the streets of the capital and the roads of the surrounding country. Mexico City was in a fever of excitement but there were no disorders. Curfew was established in Mexico at 9:45 o'clock tonight.

Evidence that the crime was premeditated was found in a paper discovered in the pocket of the slayer.

INTENTION PROVED
It was addressed "to my family" and said: "Knowing that I will die in carrying out my principle, I bid you farewell." It was signed simply "Juan."

Another slip of paper contained the names "Romero, Topeta, Robinson," and it is assumed that these names were of men also singled out for death. The Robinson name may have referred to Thomas Robinson, young American mining engineer who recently married Ernestina Calles, daughter of President Calles. There are a number of Romeros prominent in the Obregon ranks and Ricardo Topeta is leader of the Obregon forces in Congress.

The real identity of the assassin was not known, to the public at least, tonight. It is pointed out that name "Escapularis" is one often given in contempt or derision. And in this case it is probably not a family name at all.

FUTURE IN DOUBT
What the political consequences of the crime will be no one would venture to predict. President Calles took charge of the situation within a few minutes after the slaying and it was generally believed that he would have strong control over any situation that might arise.

The question of who will succeed Calles, now that Gen. Obregon is dead, is undecided. In many quarters it is believed the President may, under the Constitution, serve another full term. In others it is thought probable new elections will be called.

The death of Gen. Obregon removes the last of the three men who sought to succeed Calles in the Presidency. Gen. Francisco Serrano, former Minister of War, and Gen. Arnulfo Gomez, who opposed Obregon in the early stages of the campaign, were executed when, it was asserted, they were implicated in a plot of revolution. That left Gen. Obregon unopposed and with Calles's support, and in the elections held July 1 he was elected unanimously to the Presidency.

MANY ESCAPES
Gen. Obregon many times narrowly escaped assassination, once at the hands of a common soldier in the field and only last November when a bomb was thrown at his automobile. He escaped the last time with a few cuts on his face. Several times since the Presidential campaign of 1925 opened his headquarters were bombed.

The shooting today came most unexpectedly. Gen. Obregon was seated at the head of the banquet table with Ricardo Topeta, Obregon leader in Congress, at his right and Aaron Saenz, Governor of Nueva Leon, at his left. While he chatted with his hosts a band played Mexican music and a cartoonist drew sketches of the notables.

Suddenly the cartoonist rose and approached Gen. Saenz, asking permission to show his cartoons to the guest of honor. He turned to Obregon, pretended to show him the cartoons and then with a gun which he had concealed under the papers fired directly into the President-elect's body.

EXCITEMENT QUELLED
The horror-stricken guests jumped to their feet as the President-elect slumped back in his chair moaning. Then there was a dash for the slayer and guns and knives were pulled. He was in imminent danger but Roberto Cruz, Chief of Police of Mexico City, jumped in front of him and held off the men who thirsted for his blood.

"No, let's keep him, we want to find out who's back of this," Cruz warned. Then soldiers whisked the assassin away to jail.

Gen. Obregon moaned and seemed to be in the greatest agony as he was carried to his automobile. Witnesses said he died before he reached it. In a few moments the body had been taken to his home, which, through the precaution of President Calles, was already surrounded by a large force of soldiers and police. A huge crowd had gathered and it was with difficulty that even the closest friends of the slain general wormed their way through to the doorway.

CALLES ACTS
President Calles, who was in Mexico City at the moment of the tragedy, was advised immediately and hastened to San Angel. There he visited the restaurant where the shooting took place, then the jail where the slayer was held, and after giving orders for an immediate investigation drove to the Obregon residence.

The stern face of the President relaxed as he gazed at the body of his dead associate, and he frankly wept. As he left he gave a brief statement to newspaper men in which he said: "I have suffered such a shock that I am completely stunned. The death of Gen. Obregon is of transcendental importance to the country as he represented all the hopes and ambitions of the Mexican people. In my estimation the country lost its greatest representative."

MORROW SHOCKED
United States Ambassador Morrow was profoundly shocked and hastened to the Foreign Office to present his condolences. "I am deeply distressed," he said to newspaper men.

Other diplomatic representatives in Mexico City presented their condolences at the Foreign Office and scores of messages were received during the evening.

Umberto Obregon, son of the general, was at home when the assassination took place and was the first to rush to the automobile when the body was brought to the home. He was prostrated by grief. Messages were immediately sent to relatives in Sonora and also to the general's daughter, Refugio, wife of Col. Rafael Ponce de Leon, at Guadalajara. All were expected to leave immediately for Mexico City.

FUNERAL IN ABEYANCE
No arrangements for the funeral of Obregon have been made as yet. It was suggested in some quarters that there be a double funeral, honoring at the same time Gen. Obregon and Capt. (Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

OBREGON SERVED FULL TERM

Slain President-elect Was Last Mexican Who Completed Legal Tenure of Election

NEW YORK, July 17. (AP)—With the assassination of President-elect Gen. Alvaro Obregon, the last Mexican President to serve a whole term has passed away.

Attorney Francisco Leon De la Barra, Pedro Lascruain, Francisco Carraval and Adolfo De la Huerta, who have served as provisional Presidents, still are alive, all living abroad and the last in the United States.

Since the late President Porfirio Diaz, who ruled Mexico for more than thirty years, was driven from power in 1911 by the Francisco I. Madero revolution, Mexico has had two Presidents-elect and provisional Presidents. None of them had served a full term except Obregon, who held office in 1920-24.

TWO TERMS CUT SHORT

Francisco Leon De la Barra was in office only a few days after Porfirio Diaz was deposed from power through Madero's political Plan of San Luis Potosi, May 23, 1911. Madero was assassinated on November 6 for the term ending November 30, 1915, but was driven from office and assassinated on February 22, 1913, during a local revolutionary movement in Mexico City, headed by Gen. Felix Diaz, a nephew of the late President, and Victoriano Huerta.

Huerta made himself President after having arrested the members of Congress and on October 10, 1913, assumed complete control of the judicial and legislative powers. Huerta was overthrown by the Plan of Guadalupe which started the Venustiano Carranza revolution late in 1913. Obregon was one of Carranza's foremost lieutenants, together with the late Gen. Francisco Villa. Huerta resigned July 15, 1914, and Carranza assumed the provisional Presidency for less than a year.

Later in 1924 Gen. Calles was elected to supersede Obregon, and for the first time in decades a Mexican President followed another into office in peaceful sequence.

Among the provisional heads of the Mexican state also have been Fernando Lascruain, "President for an hour," whose brief elevation occurred during the Victoriano Huerta revolt; Eulalio Gutierrez, who was appointed at the military convention of Aguascalientes in 1914, and served during a month as governor of the state of Sonora; and Roque Gonzalez Garza, appointed by the Agrarian Zapatista party during the same troubled year.

OBREGON TARGET IN PLOTS

Revolutionists Long Opposed to His Ascendancy; De la Huerta Here Attacks Slain Man

President-elect Obregon was last in Los Angeles in June, 1927. Some months before, late in 1926, on return from here his train was beset by a revolutionary band of murderous Yaqui Indians, but he acted with so much heroism and resourcefulness that he saved his party, and later was presented with a medal of commendation by passengers on the train.

It was of this attack that he spoke. President Calles and looming ascendancy made him a target for the revolutionary plotters. He has been surrounded constantly by a guard and many precautions since his election to the Presidency.

Some of the local Mexicans who are in sympathy with the Calles-Obregon forces said last night that they have heard with great interest reports from Mexico that Mexican Secretary of Labor Morones, who is declared to have aspired to the Presidency, and Mexican Secretary of War Amaro, although members of President Calles's Cabinet, have been forming a cabal with friends of the late Gomez Serrano and De la Huerta against the President-elect. The reports, they said, are unverified but were accompanied by the prediction that Obregon would be assassinated and never would reach the President's chair.

ACTIVE CAREER ENDS VIOLENTLY

Obregon Rose from Farm to Pre-eminent Place

Administration Marked by Notable Progress

American Friendship and War Record Stand Out

(By the Associated Press.)

Alvaro Obregon began his military career when he was 28 years of age. He had been a student, machinist, farmer and merchant in Nogales, Sonora, the town of his birth, where his family was well known, and first took the field at the head of 400 men to protect their property from the looting of organized bandits. He was medium sized, stocky built, a fine specimen of his Irish-Indian blood. It has been said of him that he was "the only Mexican revolutionary general who never lost a battle."

The keynote to Obregon's character he recently voiced in the following words: "I would rather teach the Mexican people the use of a toothbrush than to handle a rifle. I would rather see them in schools than upon battlefields. I prefer any day a good electrician, machinist, carpenter or farmer to a soldier." His attitude toward foreign investors was shown at the same time by his declaration that "a country without capital is like a body without blood." He opposed Carranza's foreign policy and his antagonism toward the United States.

OBREGON DEFEATED

Obregon in 1911, quelled the revolution of Pascual-Ortega in Chihuahua. Later, when President Madero had been slain and Huerta assumed the Presidency, Obregon, who had retired minus an arm to his farm, again became a military leader. In 1914, he defeated Villa at Celaya and Trinidad after thirty-three days of fighting. It was as parties to the Plan of Guadalupe, by which the rebels against Huerta's dictatorship took the name of Constitutionalist, that Obregon and Carranza first met. When Carranza became President he appointed Obregon his Minister of War. At the inauguration the general rode beside Carranza in the procession in Mexico City.

As Minister of War in 1916, Obregon went to the border and negotiated with Maj. Gen. Hugh L. Scott for the withdrawal of the American troops sent into Mexico shortly after the raid on Columbus, N. M. Some time later upon visiting Washington, he was the guest of President Wilson.

BREAK COMES

The break between Carranza and Obregon came about two years later. Obregon, meanwhile having resigned his post on June 1, 1919, having returned to Mexico from a visit to the United States he announced his candidacy for the Presidency, saying:

"I am and will be a faithful friend to those who with blood and brain answered the call of the country against Huerta, murdered Madero. But I will be the enemy of those who pretend that their service must be paid for with the same liberties which Huerta usurped and which we swore to return to the country."

Obregon's pronouncement, issued from his farm in Sonora, angered Carranza. He immediately denounced him from his title of general of a division to a lieutenant colonel. The general had many supporters in the Mexican Congress, however, and to some of them he owed his escape early in 1920 from a trap set for him.

UPHOLD SECESSION

Obregon went to Cuernavaca where he announced himself in sympathy with the secession of Sonora which, on April 11, had been declared by its Governor, Adolfo de la Huerta, because of a threatened invasion by Carranza troops. Other States followed the example of Sonora and revolted against Carranza. Early in May Carranza fled from Mexico City and Gov. de la Huerta, accompanied by Obregon and Gen. Pablo Gonzales, entered the capital. Gov. de la Huerta was chosen by the anti-Carranza leaders as the provisional President of Mexico, pending an election.

Gen. Obregon, while declaring he would take the field against any foe in case of intervention, for years had expressed himself as friendly to the American government. In a message to the American people in 1919, he disclaimed hostility to America and pleaded for a better understanding between the people of the two countries. He challenged the justice of the United States Senate's investigation of Mexican affairs.

Gen. Obregon was twice married. His first wife, whom he married when he was 23, died in 1903 after two children had been born to them, a son, Humberto and a daughter, Refugio. When he left the army he married again, his second wife being the daughter of Don Francisco Tapia, of Sonora.

PROGRESS MADE

Obregon's four-year administration was marked by much economic and political progress, including recognition of his government by the United States and several European nations.

Throughout his campaign he had stressed friendliness for the United States and the intention of protecting all foreigners and foreign capital.

P. Elias Calles was made Minister of the Interior and Adolfo de la Huerta, Minister of Finance. Through De la Huerta, Obregon arranged for a mixed claims commission which put Mexico's foreign debts on a definite payment basis.

MRS. OBREGON COLLAPSES

Wife of Assassinated President-elect In Hospital, Doctors in Home at Navajao, Son.

NOGALES (Ariz.) July 17. (AP)—Mrs. Alvaro Obregon, wife of the slain President-elect, collapsed at her home at Navajao, Sonora, this afternoon, after having been informed that her husband had been assassinated at the Mexican National Palace.

Physicians immediately isolated Mrs. Obregon from her friends and she now is under medical care and no one, except her immediate family, are permitted to see her, according to dispatches received here from Navajao, Sonora, which is 350 miles south of the American border. Mrs. Obregon was preparing to leave Navajao for Nogales to spend the summer when the news of the death of her husband reached her. President Calles telegraphed Nogales in both Houses.

If Obregon had lived in office on December 1, he would have been inaugurated on January 1, 1929, after a period of relative calm in the oil question dating from the time of the Mexican revolution.

UNITED STATES ATTITUDE

His big task, however, was obtaining the recognition of the United States. Negotiations were carried on persistently, the United States insisting upon treaty and Obregon refusing to consider conditional recognition or any terms which appeared to reflect upon Mexico's equality.

One of the underlying disputes between the countries was a Presidential proclamation in May, 1921, setting a tax of 25 per cent on oil exported from Mexico. Producers, including many Americans, protested strongly, and production fell off. In September, 1923, diplomatic relations were resumed, however, and during the next year Obregon found practical value in the friendship of the Washington administration.

TRIO BREAKS UP

Calles resigned from the Cabinet to run for President, and relations between him and Obregon were reported as strained. Soon afterward Obregon charged De la Huerta with participating in huge graft and was put down only after Obregon had gone into the field himself and after the United States had permitted sale of war materials by Americans to Obregon.

Calles was elected and took office November 30, 1924, and Obregon went to California on an extended visit. A year later a movement was underway for his re-election, although the Mexican Constitution did not permit this. In June, 1926, after much indecision and one announcement that he was favorable to the candidacy of Gen. Francisco Serrano, Obregon announced his candidacy on a platform of support of Calles's policies.

CONSTITUTION CHANGED

Congress passed and Calles signed a constitutional amendment legalizing Obregon's re-election and making the term of office six years instead of four.

Gen. Serrano and Gen. Gomez, also a candidate, formed an anti-re-electionist party and revolted against the Obregon-Calles party. The revolt was subdued and General Serrano and Gomez, with many of their followers, were executed. Obregon, alone in the field, was elected July 1 formally and a Con-

Ambassador Morrow Voices
Official Regrets

WASHINGTON, July 17. (P)—Official and diplomatic Washington was stunned today when it caught the flashing word of President-elect Obregon's assassination near Mexico City.

Coming at a time when relations between the United States and Mexico are on a more amicable basis than they have been for years and when hope was high for a continuance of these relations under the new President, the news was a great shock to the capital and expressions of sorrow immediately issued from government circles.

Ambassador Teller was overcome when informed of the assassination by the Associated Press and at first refused to believe it. He then called Mexico City by telephone.

KELLOGG SHOCKED
Secretary Kellogg and other State Department officials were told the news as they were preparing to leave their offices for the day. The Secretary immediately put in a call for Ambassador Morrow, who gave the details to the department. Later the Secretary sent the following telegram of sympathy to General Estrada, Mexican Foreign Minister:

"I was terribly shocked by the news of the dastardly attack on President-elect Obregon. This government has learned of his death with profound sorrow and I beg your Excellency to accept the deepest sympathy of the government of the United States."

Ambassador Teller predicted an instant reaction in his country that would "unite all Mexico against the forces of reaction and revolution."

"It is a second great tragedy for Mexico," he said, "but I believe and hope that indignation against the assassin will unite all classes in Mexico in support of the administration and beg your Excellency to accept my deep sympathy and that of the United States on Mexico's loss."

MORROW ACTS
Ambassador Morrow told Mr. Kellogg that he had called upon President Calles and Foreign Minister Estrada and conveyed condolences both for himself and the American government.

The news reached the Secretary just as he had finished dictating a letter to Ambassador Teller acknowledging Mexico's invitation to the four American army officers who had been associated with Capt. Emilio Carranza during his stay at Mitchell Field to accompany the flyer's body to Mexico City.

Mr. Kellogg asked the Ambassador to express to his government the deep appreciation of the United States government for the invitation, which the army officers gratefully accepted.

DEATH MOURNED
BY BAY CITY MAYOR
SAN FRANCISCO, July 17. (P)—Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, a close personal friend of Gen. Obregon, President-elect of Mexico, was assassinated today. He was the following statement on hearing of his friend's death:

"With profound sorrow I have read of the assassination of Gen. Alvaro Obregon. I have known him personally for a long time. He visited San Francisco on several occasions and became intimate friends. He was a man of wonderful personality, sterling honor and integrity, and was devoted to the plain people of his country. He was a constant source of inspiration to me, and his death is a great loss to the United States."

"Gen. Obregon was a devoted friend of the United States, and his ambition was to promote friendship and more cordial relations with us. He was deeply devoted to California and to San Francisco and Los Angeles in particular. He carried on large business affairs with these two cities of ours. He was the principal shipper over the Mexican government lines between Mexico and San Francisco."

"San Francisco loses not only an important commercial connection, but mourns a frequent visitor known to be and regarded as a personal friend by many of our leading citizens."

TRAGEDY
DEPLORED
BY BISHOP
Catholic Church Leader
in Exile Fearful of More Disorders to Follow

NEW YORK, July 17. (P)—Informed of the assassination of President-elect Obregon near Mexico City today, Bishop Pascual Diaz of Tabasco, exiled leader of the Roman Catholic church in Mexico, deplored violence as apt to sow the seeds of greater hatred.

"As a missionary of Christ, my mission is of peace and reconciliation," Bishop Diaz said. "I am greatly saddened by the violent measure resorted to to solve the grave difficulties that afflict Mexico."

"I believe that this measure, instead of conducing to peace, will sow the seeds of greater hatred among the sons of our land and will bring more sorrow to the country. With all my heart I pray to God that peace will be restored to the hearts of the Mexicans and that hatred will be banished in order that we may dedicate ourselves to the reconstruction of our distressed country."

Catholic Group
Freed in Mexico
MEXICO CITY, July 18. (P)—Twenty-one out of twenty-two Roman Catholics arrested Sunday on charges of violating the religious laws by conducting mass in a private residence were released today with an admonition by the police to respect the laws hereafter. It was announced that the other person who was considered the leader of the group will be fined and then released.

OAKLAND TEACHER
HANGS SELF IN HOME
BERKELEY, July 17. (P)—A second attempt at suicide by Miss Katherine Wolfman, 56 years of age, veteran Oakland public-school teacher, proved successful today when she hanged herself in the basement of her home. She had been ill since last January.

Expression of Regret Sent by Coolidge

SUPERIOR, July 17. (P)—On hearing of the assassination today of President-elect Obregon of Mexico, President Coolidge immediately wired his regrets to President Calles of that country.

"I have learned with the most profound regret of the shameful assassination of President-elect Alvaro Obregon," President Coolidge said.

"I am fully aware of the distinguished service which Gen. Obregon rendered to his nation and beg your Excellency to accept my deep sympathy and that of the United States on Mexico's loss."

Mexico," he said, "but I believe and hope that indignation against the assassin will unite all classes in Mexico in support of the administration and beg your Excellency to accept my deep sympathy and that of the United States on Mexico's loss."

"I believe I speak the sentiment of our city when I say that Los Angeles is greatly shocked by the death of President-elect Obregon and especially in his being taken off in that way. He frequently was among us and we had learned to hold in esteem his many abilities and we looked forward to his coming administration of affairs in Mexico as one that certainly would bring great benefit to our Mexican neighbor. Personally, I regarded him as a rather superior man."

Mexican Consul Pesquera in Los Angeles was astounded at the news of Obregon's death.

PROGRESS INTERRUPTED
"It's a great shock," he said. "The character and personality of this man were gigantic and having known him intimately as I have I can say that the hand that cut short his life has caused untold harm to Mexico and to the cause of enlightened and liberal government not only in Mexico but the world over."

"We were fully aware of the danger which continually surrounded him, and no doubt he, too, knew it. However, the fact that he was used to dangers of all sorts during his life as a soldier and as a politician made him disregard the insults and threats of his enemies. The people of Mexico at large had great confidence in him, and the progress of the construction of the country as well as his work as a private citizen as well as a President of the republic, had expressed the hearts of the people of his country as well as foreigners who knew him as he really was, that is, a deeply human and understanding."

BETTER DAYS SEEN
"The eyes of the world were focused on Gen. Obregon as it was felt that his election for the Presidency of Mexico would automatically bring about the complete improvement of conditions in the country. In fact, there was an earnest movement of reconciliation with the government of Mexico and certain interests and people who in the past had disagreed with the situation in the republic."

"The Mexican colony of Los Angeles has already started to show its great respect for Gen. Obregon and the consulate is fairly swamped with telephone and personal calls regarding the fatal news. Within the country itself, the Mexicans at large have become sincerely mournful as Gen. Obregon's friends comprise a vast majority of the people of Mexico."

"No greater loss could have been suffered by Mexico at this time, when an era of peace and prosperity was beginning to show itself. However, it is certain that Gen. Calles will know how to handle the situation and quiet down the natural confusion brought about by the irreparable loss of a great man like Gen. Obregon."

"The name of Gen. Obregon will go down in the history of Mexico along with the names of its most noble heroes."

HINDRANCE TO PROGRESS
Rafael Quijano, editor of El Herald de Mexico, the Los Angeles Mexican newspaper friendly to the present Mexican administration, looks on the murder as a far-reaching hindrance to his country's progress. He said:

"The assassination of Obregon will most probably be the cause of new bloody uprisings in our country."

"As we have not all the details that involve this tragic event it is hard to know what the different opposing parties as well as those that were in favor of Gen. Obregon will do; however, there is great probability that some of them will instigate a revenge fight, which, however, to our belief, would not be able to extend very far, as President Calles will energetically suppress any such uprising."

"We and our country are greatly shocked at the news of this assassination, as undoubtedly the event will be a terrible drawback for the evolution of our country and the consequences cannot be measured for the time being."

CALLED DISGRACEFUL
Ignacio E. Lozano, publisher of La Opinion, the official Mexican newspaper, regards the assassination as the most disgraceful political episode in Mexico in the last few years. He said:

"This is by far the most disgraceful political occurrence in Mexico in the last few years. Many people might consider this crime as the logical result of the activities of the Gen. Obregon, on account of the profound division created in Mexico by the revolutionary party, of which he was the most notable leader. Unfortunately, I believe this assassination will mark the beginning of an era of revenges and crimes of this kind. As a Mexican, I condemn the assassination of Obregon as I condemn crime in general. I have been always hoping for a better Mexico, with honest leaders and entirely civilized proceedings in our political life."

Los Angeles friends of peace in Mexico were profoundly affected yesterday by news of the assassination of Mexican President-elect Obregon. He had many personal friends and some enemies in this city which he visited frequently in both a business and social way.

More than one "hunta" or meeting of Mexican political interests, has taken place in Los Angeles and respect here of the news of his slaying recalled a charge he once made in Los Angeles that a Mexican political refugee residing here had instigated an unsuccessful plot against his life at that time.

MANY TRUCKS TO BE SEIZED

Busses Also to be Confiscated at Once by State for Failure to Pay Motor Tax

SACRAMENTO, July 17. (AP)—Immediate seizure of approximately 1000 freight trucks and passenger busses for failure to pay the State motor transportation tax was ordered today by Ray L. Riley, State controller.

Four groups of workers have been thrown into the field to make the seizure. In the San Francisco territory the Pinkerton Detective Agency will operate. The Los Angeles seizures will be made by the Nick Harris Agency. T. J. Nicely, Fresno detective, will cover extreme Southern California. Claude E. Cooper, deputy controller, will marshal the forces in northern counties.

The seized equipment will be driving by State employed truck drivers to division headquarters of the highway department and there inspected until the tax is paid or until sale of the equipment realizes the tax money for the State.

Controller Riley admitted today that the action which will be upon $1,000,000 to $3,000,000 worth of rolling stock, may put many of the transportation companies out of business because failure to keep schedules will automatically forfeit franchises.

About 150 companies have failed to pay the tax out of 661 companies operating. Against these companies has been levied a tax of $1,000,000 at the rate of 4 1/2 per cent of gross receipts for passenger lines and 5 per cent for freight lines. The motor transportation tax was authorized by the people of California in the 1926 election.

Included among the marchers were 100 bands.

NEW INFANTILE PARALYSIS WAR

Researchers Prepare Fight on Epidemic

Convalescent Serum Halts Early Stages

Parents Warned to Watch Children Closely

NEW YORK, July 17. (AP)—Believing that on the basis of the history of the disease they cannot look forward with any degree of assurance to an absence of outbreaks of infantile paralysis during this summer and fall, doctors and research men throughout the country are organizing for a concerted attack on any epidemic that may develop.

Every possible precaution is being taken to protect the public from the ravages of the disease, and doctors believe the advances which medicine has made in the knowledge of infantile paralysis during recent years should diminish the anxiety which its presence always occasions.

SERUM HELPS
No satisfactory method of immunization from the disease has been developed, but there now is a convalescent serum, taken from the blood of recovered patients, which acts to nullify the virus if injected in the early stages of sickness.

Funds already have been established in San Francisco, Boston and New York to defray the expense of collecting and distributing this serum, which will be placed in the hands of committees of physicians especially informed and qualified to direct its use.

When the above facts and those that follow were made known to the Associated Press they were presented to officials of the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research and the institute gave its official approval.

RESEARCH WORK
The main centers of experimental investigation of the disease have been at the Rockefeller Institute here and at the Pasteur Institute in Paris, although laboratories in Germany, Austria and Sweden have added their contributions to the rapidly growing knowledge of the disease.

Infantile paralysis is caused by an invisible germ and is communicated from one person to another only through the mouth-hand nose.
Cleanliness and forbearance from contact with a kissing children, who are the chief victims, are the only known preventives.

"It is necessary that parents keep a sharp lookout as to the health of their children," one internationally famous physician told the Associated Press. "Symptoms of the disease are not readily apparent to the layman. The children run a fever, become nauseated, perhaps, and complain of a headache. These also are symptoms of many other diseases. In a little while the neck may stiffen, or an arm or a leg become flaccid. If only the child be placed in the hands of a competent physician before the attack the results would be beneficial.

These facts are stated not for the purpose of alarming the general public, but merely to point out the necessity for great care."

FIRST EPIDEMIC
The first spectacular epidemic of the disease occurred in 1897 and its origin was traced to Northwestern Europe. Since the virus is carried by man and so far no research scientists have determined by analysis it has spread over the trade routes of the world. In 1913 it swept over New York State, leaving 20,000 recorded cases. During the ensuing ten years the attacks slackened but last year several severe outbreaks occurred in this country, forcing doctors to the conclusion that although the white population of the world may some day become immunized to its ravages, the disease has not yet run its course.

RAVAGES SEVERE
The effort to find a means of immunization has been untiring because of the virulence of the disease, which is revealed in statistics which show that about one-half of all victims are to some extent permanenly paralyzed and that the other half is almost evenly divided between those who succumb and those who recover.

The medical effort has been to find a means of producing artificial immunity which in other diseases communicated through mouth and nose has been accomplished by means of vaccination. Such immunity from infantile paralysis has actually been produced by experiments on monkeys, but the difficulty of controlling the virus has up to this time been great that no one has dared to apply this technique to human beings.

The convalescent serum, however, if injected at an early stage of the disease, preferably before paralysis sets in, has proven efficacious in preventing or reducing permanent paralysis. For this reason doctors feel that undue alarm should not be felt at thought of a possible epidemic, provided that common rules of sanitation are generally and thoroughly followed and diagnosis by competent physicians is made immediately upon the appearance of symptoms which might indicate infantile paralysis.

TRIPLE PLAY FEATURES STARS' WIN OVER SEALS

SEALS CLUB CAPTURES THRILLING BALL GAME

Kerr-Heath Combination Kills San Francisco Rally in Fifth; Score 5 to 4

BY PAUL LOWRY

A man who wrote that variety was the spice of life has been a cash customer at the ball orchard yesterday.

There were enough lesser incidents to do for the average ball game, but yesterday's was no average affair. The only thing the boys failed to uncover was a three-bagger and a kiss on the button for one of the umpires.

It was a warm day and the arbiters had a bad time of it all around. Major's hit to right which scored Kinney. At any rate he galloped down the line and made a lot of motions with his arms that looked like "out," seeming in a second to catch himself and point to Westervelt as the man with the say-so at third.

TO THE SHOWERS
The net result was a terrific roar from Pinelli who acted as if he were about to sing Westervelt. This brought Williams and Mails from the dugout and several other angry Seal players. After five minutes of turmoil Westervelt settled the storm by kicking Pinelli to the showers and banishing Williams and Mails.

This was the big seventh in reality. It settled the issue for good as matters later turned out, so the Seals probably knew what they were roaring about. Rehr's hit through short brought Kerr in with the run that spelled Hollywood's margin of victory.

Although the Stars were ahead throughout the game after the first inning which saw the Seals make one run and the locals two, there

THEY ENGINEERED TRIPLE PLAY

It all happened in the fifth inning of yesterday's game between the Stars and Seals. Jacobs was on second, Johnson on first and Pinelli at bat. The count was three and two, there was nobody out. Pinelli lined to Healy who threw to Kerr, doubling Jacobs off second. Kerr than tossed to Heath and Johnson was also out, being almost to second base at the time. Thus went the first triple play of the local season. Naturally, the stunt pulled Bro. Kinney out of quite a hole.

GORCHAKOFF AND DOEG CLASH TODAY IN EAST

Play in the men's doubles opened at a late hour this afternoon. The field surviving, numbering sixteen teams. John Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison, and Malcolm Hill and Henry Johnson, first and second seeded teams, were easy first-round victors.

Other favorites in the doubles had little difficulty making the sixteen bracket. The college champions, Herring and Ralph McEweny, John Doe and Louis Thalheimer, and Ben Gorchakoff and Berkeley Bell, were also winners. Both Doe and Gorchakoff, in the upper bracket, and Mercur, Bowman, and Herring, were carried over to the second round. The second round singles tilts. It was just a case of letting up in the second or third set that caused the loss of one frame. Allison, Shields and Van Ryn were straight set winners. Of the seeded crew, only Van Ryn seems to show any real form, though all of the left-handers are doing brilliantly at various points of the tourney.

LA BARBA WINS RING BATTLE
weight king carried the attack to his smaller and more inexperienced opponent, winning every round and proving that he will be a dangerous foe at his increased weight for all rivals in the division between the bantams and the featherers.

EVANS CHEERED
However, the little fellow was game and he received a big hand in the last round, when he pulled La Barba about the neck in an effort to break loose and land a decisive punch. In fact, when the boys left the ring it was Evans who received the biggest cheer for his courageous stand against a heavier foe.

IT ALL started when cigarettes were offered. Everyone refused, and lit their own. Five persons... four different brands. That started the talk on cigarette tastes—whether people spoof themselves on their likes and dislikes. Someone suggested the blindfold test to find out. We pooled cigarettes, four of the best known brands. I acted as referee, each guest was blindfolded in turn, smoked four cigarettes and stated which one they liked the best.

Record Fleet Entered in Second Annual Yachting Event Saturday

With fifteen entries assuring a record-breaking fleet of sail and power yachts, the second annual Dana Point cruise of the Newport Harbor Yacht Club is set for Saturday and Sunday, according to Claude G. Fulnam, cruising chairman.

Following along similar lines of last year's cruise, which proved to be one of the most successful events of the season, the fleet will race from Newport to Dana Point in four classes, as follows: Class A, sloops; Class B, schooners, ketches, yawls; Class C, power cruisers; Class D, speed boats and runabouts. All races will be at hand-

THE YACHTS will start together, crossing a line between the Newport jetty and the bell buoy at 12:30 Saturday. The finish line will be marked by the Dana Point pier and a committee boat lying off the pier.

Dick Burd, who acted as master of ceremonies last year, is again in charge at Dana Point. The program includes a barbecue on the beach at sunset, and the presentation of trophies in the pavilion at 8:30.

NATIONALISTA FAVORED TO BEAT RED HUMPHRIES

Young Nationalista goes to the liver they care not about their reputations.

All Red Humphries asks is a chance and he is getting it. Red can't be criticized for picking a tough bloke like Young Nationalista as his opponent, and as for the fight with Jimmy Fela, it will have to go down in the books as a "dud." They all make 'em and as Red is young he can be excused.

A very rare thing is to see two brothers in the card. The Albin boys appear in the special event and curtain-raiser. Freddie Albin meets Hymie Wiseman in the special. They are featherweights. Wiseman makes his first California appearance and the tip is to pick him to win. He is rated main-event timber. Johnny Albin, the lightweight, fights George Alward. Freddie Albin recently beat Huerta Evans, the kid who fought Fidel La Barba, but still imperial only takes a "semi" at Hollywood. He is picked to beat Flash Hastings.

BULL MARKET TREND TRACED

Price Level Shows Sharp Decline

RECENT liquidation in the stock market has been accompanied by the most drastic contraction in brokers' loans since early 1926. The above chart, nevertheless, shows how small relatively have been the declines in stock prices and loans when comparison is made with the long upswing of late years. In the accompanying chart, Standard Statistics Company's index is used as the basis for the curve on stock prices.

METAL MARKET HOLDING TO RUT

Buying Only Moderate With Prices Unchanged

Lead Tends to Improve; Zinc Deadlock Noted

Copper Rules Strong Despite Production Gain

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS
Editor The Mining Journal, Phoenix
Another week of moderate buying with no price changes has featured the metal market. The copper demand is largely for immediate shipment at 14 1/2 cents f.o.b. refinery, with a slight advance in the price to improve and zinc a little above its average in sales with a 6.20 f.o.b. St. Louis price with 6.25 asked for further to 4.64.

An advance in the lead price is generally expected, although there is nothing to indicate a rise in the statistics that would indicate or justify it. It is expected that the stocks of lead are lowered after the larger deliveries of June, but this will not be in sufficient amount to cause any anxiety on the part of the buyers as to their ability to get the metal they need.

The zinc market is suffering from a wave of pessimism and this condition prevails not only in the United States but abroad. The technical position of zinc is not bad, but there is a certain stubbornness to the market which prevents it from loosening up. A resistance to buying at asked prices and a resistance to any selling at lower prices. The zinc industry as a whole is not making an adequate profit and the buyers seem to be waiting for a better price.

TRIANGULAR DEADLOCK

The zinc situation is in the nature of a triangular deadlock between the producers, the smelters and the buyers with the consumers existing further advance of the price. One in the Joplin district is on a $40 basis, which is as low as the mines have lifted their yield from 4.75 per cent to 4.91.

Whether the recent downward adjustment in security values has been fairly well completed or whether it must continue is not a question for decision here. What must be plain is that on strictly

Light Company, regular quarterly of 1 1/2 per cent on preferred, payable August 10.

COPPER PRICE POLICY

The interview of C. F. Kelly, president of Anaconda, with a representative of a German metal journal, has clarified the price-policy situation with regard to foreign copper, as some believed that it was the intention of the export association to stabilize the price at a reasonable level, while others believed that it was the intention to get "all the traffic would be."

In effect Mr. Kelly stated that it was no part of the price policy of the export association to exploit the situation with regard to foreign copper, as some believed that it was the intention of the export association to stabilize the price at a reasonable level, while others believed that it was the intention to get "all the traffic would be."

Mr. Kelly said also that it is hoped soon to create quiet relations in the international zinc market. Agreement between the European and American zinc producers was within the range of possibility and the recent understanding among themselves of the European zinc producers would contribute to an international understanding. He said, however, that, in order to be effective, regulation must apply both to crude zinc and electrolytic zinc.

STOCK YIELD INDEX RISING

Average Return on Group of Industrials Sharply Up Since Recent Slump on Market

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT
(Copyright, 1928, by New York Evening Post, Inc.)
NEW YORK, July 17.—With the recent downswing in stock values, the average yield on industrial common issues has risen to 4.64 per cent as against 4.36 in May before the break when stocks were at their record peak.

This interesting observation on the investment position of common stocks represents no rough calculation, but is based on the average monthly yield for thirty-three industrial common stocks as figured by the market's fall. A computation based on mid-July prices shows that this month's average market has swelled the yield further to 4.64.

Even this rather drastic advance in the yield of common stocks induced by a falling 1928 market leaves stocks on a substantially dearer level than they were after the 1926 break. At this time in 1926 when stocks were scraping around their lowest prices for the year, and therefore at their best yield levels, they returned 5.46 per cent. Stocks will have to fall materially further to make them yield what they did after the 1926 collapse.

In making an inventory of portfolio changes induced by the recent recession in security values, it is essential to examine afresh the position of bonds as well as stocks. Just as a downswing in stock quotations has enhanced the available yield in the market on common issues, a shrinkage in bond values has carried the return on fixed interest-bearing obligations up. At the peak levels two months ago industrial bonds were selling to yield more than industrial stocks. This relative position has been maintained in the adjustment. Falling stock prices have lifted the yield from 4.36 to 4.64. Falling bond prices have lifted their yield from 4.75 per cent to 4.91.

Whether the recent downward adjustment in security values has been fairly well completed or whether it must continue is not a question for decision here. What must be plain is that on strictly

General Motors Again Tops Trading Activity

NEW YORK, July 17. (P)—Responding to a further lowering of call money rates and favorable trade news, stock prices turned upward today after an opening interval of heaviness. Trading showed a slight expansion in volume, the day's sales aggregating 1,272,500 shares.

Decline in Call Loan Rate Spur to Buying

Call money renewed at 8 per cent, as against an opening rate of 6 1/2 yesterday, and dropped to 5 1/2 in the early afternoon. The decline in the call rate in the face of semi-weekly settlements was regarded as a bullish factor. Time money and commercial paper rates held steady. Wall street is looking for a substantial decrease in Federal Reserve brokers' loans this Thursday. Trading is being held in check, however, by fears that a revival of speculative activity would bring about a further increase in Federal Reserve rediscount rates. Considerable difference of opinion exists as to what effect, if any, the recent stiffening of rates will have on the normal fall expansion in business.

ARSENIC STORY RAPS RANDOLPH

State Scores in Broker's Trial for Murder

Drug in Wife's Body Denied Due to Embalming

Four Chemists Give Evidence Regarding Autopsy

As much arsenic as is contained in 266 pints of embalming fluid was found in the remains of Mrs. May W. Randolph, according to testimony given yesterday in Judge Emmett Wilson's court, where J. W. Randolph, Hollywood broker and husband of the dead woman, is on trial on a charge of murder.

Randolph is asserted to have killed his wife in order to obtain control of her estate.

Four chemists were called to testify to the finding of arsenic in the remains of Mrs. Randolph, whose body was exhumed several weeks after burial at the Los Angeles home of her daughter, Mrs. Annetta Collins, who suspected her mother was the victim of foul play.

The witnesses were County Chemist Abernethy, O. L. Cheney, Arthur R. Maas and S. W. Green. All of them examined various parts of Mrs. Randolph's body and all testified to the presence of arsenic.

Earlier in the day the defense had offered to prove through Abernethy that the arsenic found might be present in the embalming fluid used in preparing the body for burial. The court declined to allow such proof to be offered at the time and the State proceeded with its theory that the total arsenic found was much greater in volume than any amount that might have been contained by the embalming fluid.

The prosecution is in the hands of Dep. Dist. Atty. Thoms and Menzies, while attorneys H. H. Harris, Joe Ryan and Mark Herron represent Randolph.

The trial will be resumed today.

SUIT SEEKS BAN AGAINST WASTE OIL

State Asks Injunction to Prevent Beach Pollution from Signal Hill

Following on the heels of a similar suit a few weeks ago, an injunction is sought to restrain oil companies from running off refuse into the ocean in a case yesterday before Superior Judge Galbreth.

The oil companies defending the action are the Los Angeles Gas Company, the Marine Corporation, Rush & Voorhis, Land & Wall, Carson Oil Company & Featherstone and Preston.

The suit is brought for the people by Ralph Scott, attorney for the Fish and Game Commission of California.

According to the complaint the defendant companies have been permitting oil and oil refuse to be discharged from their wells in the Signal Hill field and run down to the ocean where it pollutes the water making the beaches unfit for bathing and injurious to fish.

In a recent suit involving the Huntington oil field, Superior Judge Yankwich enjoined a number of the companies from allowing oil to run down to Huntington Beach.

CHRISTIES PLAN SOUND STAGE UNIT

Metropolitan Studio to Erect Complete Plant in Short While

Production plans for talking and sound pictures of all kinds were given an impetus yesterday when contracts were signed between the Christie brothers and the Austin Company of California for the construction of the first of the units of sound stages at the Metropolitan studios.

The new construction, which will include sound-proof stages, recording building, monitor rooms in conjunction with the stages and a complete theater, where synchronized pictures can be shown, will be the center of the sound film making of the Christie company as well as other companies who are centralizing their producing operations at the Metropolitan plant. These are the Harold Lloyd Productions, Caddo Company and Carlos Productions.

In conjunction with Metropolitan the Christies have hastened their plans to build a large stage at Studio City.

The Austin Company with which contracts were closed by Christie, will start construction immediately on the first unit. This first stage will be 76x106 feet and additional stages will be this size or larger. Included in the buildings to be have been knocked down by Marco, and also that Crowley had "lashed" a small portion of liquor set before him. In the main, however, the defense attorney's efforts to shake Crowley's testimony were futile.

Herbert Hawkins, an Ocean Park plumber, testified he heard the commotion in the front of the cafe and as he hurried into the foyer heard Marco declare with a curse, "I'll kill you." The remark was followed by the two shots, Hawkins declared.

ADMITS DRINKS
Attorney White drew the admission from Hawkins that he had "three drinks" during the evening and was able to confuse the witness as to distances and furnishings in the cafe.

Dwight C. Freeman, Santa Monica civil service commissioner, was the last witness for the day called by the prosecution to take the stand when court adjourned. He told of leaving his party and meeting Marco in the men's rest room where Freeman had been dancing. In the argument that ensued, Freeman said, Marco knocked him down and threatened to knock him down again if he got up.

Although the prosecution scored with the three last witnesses, Defense Attorney White on cross-examination of Contorno, the first prosecution witness to take the stand, established that drinking was general in the group having a party at the cafe which Contorno and Freeman, together with their wives, attended.

DRANK BRANDY
Contorno admitted he had been drinking grape brandy from about 9 p.m. June 26 until between 1 and 2:30 a.m. the next morning, when the fight started. The witness also admitted he was dazed from blows and his recollection of the fight indistinct. He would not state definitely that he thought Marco had shot him.

Marco's trial drew a packed courtroom throughout the day, with many persons lining up in the corridors. The unusual interest, together with rumors of possible approaches to jurors, led Judge Dowd to place the jury in the custody of the Sheriff during the trial to avoid any questions which he denied. He was particularly pointed in his reference to the kidnapping of his daughter and apparently has published his own answers to the questions, Mrs. Kennedy said.

MRS. KENNEDY DENIES ATTACK
Row With Aimee McPherson Mostly Misunderstanding
Mother Badly Misquoted, She Says in Seattle
But Statements Regarding Mortgage Admitted

Mrs. Minnie Kennedy has been grievously misquoted during the past few days and the ominous storm clouds which apparently were gathering again on Angelus Temple's horizon were only the result of a "long distance" misunderstanding and garbling of statements, Mrs. Kennedy said yesterday in Seattle.

The new tack in the verbal barrage between the deposed business manager and co-founder of the temple and her evangelist daughter, Aimee McPherson, was brought to light late yesterday when Mrs. Kennedy at Seattle denied ever having said she "was not satisfied with Mrs. McPherson's kidnapping story."

MATERNITY AFFIRMED
"I have also learned that Los Angeles papers have quoted me as saying that Sister McPherson is not my daughter, but the striking resemblance between us makes such a statement too absurd for words," Mrs. Kennedy said.

Mrs. Kennedy, however, admitting having issued voluminous statements recently, but justified these with another declaration that Mrs. McPherson intends to marry.

A week ago Mrs. Kennedy was quoted in dispatches as saying that Mrs. McPherson "tried to get the minutes of the first meeting of the Echo Park Evangelistic Association so she could mortgage the temple for $20,000, the money to be used for her personal needs."

MORTGAGE SHIRKING
Yesterday Mrs. Kennedy said Mrs. McPherson is negotiating for a $50,000 mortgage, the dispatches said.

"A representative of a press syndicate called upon me recently and asked me questions which I denied. He was particularly pointed in his reference to the kidnapping of my daughter and apparently has published his own answers to the questions," Mrs. Kennedy said.

Mrs. Kennedy is to conduct a revival service in Olympia, Wash., she said yesterday.

WILL GIVEN PROBATE
Suicide Leaves Entire Estate to His Friend and Benefactor

The will of Peter Lundquist, who recently drank a toast to death and fell dead in the office of E. M. Le Baron, was admitted to probate yesterday in Judge Cray's court. His entire estate, valued at $10,000, he bequeathed to Le Baron, whom he designated as his only friend.

Six years ago, when Lundquist came to California virtually penniless, Le Baron gave him a job as a janitor and explained by Attorney Marion P. Betty. Subsequently, Le Baron advised him as to investment of his small savings with the result that he accumulated the estate bequeathed to his benefactor by his will.

A few weeks ago he walked into Le Baron's office, a bottle in his hand. "Here's to death," he exclaimed, gulping the contents of the bottle. A moment later he was dead.

Mr. Thayer, who was 75 years of age, was a brother of the late Mrs. M. K. Wood, and had been associated in business with his brother-in-law, the late E. K. Wood, for forty years. Mr. Thayer lived in San Francisco, but owned property in various parts of the State. He was well known to men of the lumber trade throughout the West.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Clara Thayer, Mr. Thayer leaves a son, Raymond Thayer of San Francisco, four daughters, Mrs. Mabel Blason, Mrs. Gertrude Alexander, Mrs. Dora Chapel and Mrs. Norma Raglio of San Francisco; two nephews, Fred J. Wood, president of the E. K. Wood Lumber Company, who lives at Bellingham, Wash., and Walter Wood of San Francisco, and one grand-nephew, Warren Wood of Los Angeles.

Chinese Actress Delays Pay Suit

Engagements in distant parts of the country yesterday kept Yue So Tai, Chinese actress, from appearing in the court of Superior Judge Archibald to prosecute her case against Alexander Pantages in which she asks $275.

Attorneys for Miss Yue So Tai told Judge Archibald that their client is filing acting engagements elsewhere. The judge transferred the case to Superior Judge Blake's court, where it will be heard on September 4.

The plaintiff asserts that she was hired by Pantages as an actress on a contract which later was broken and that the amount set out in her petition is due her.

Pantages contends that he does not owe the actress anything.

War-Time Deal Brings Lawsuit

Suit was filed yesterday in the United States District Court by the government against A. J. Savage Munitions Company of San Diego, and Arthur W. Savage, besides four others and various John Does, said to have been trustees of the company.

The government seeks to collect $22,861.31 and interest on $14,857.75 from July, 1920. The suit is based on war-time contracts entered into by the government which were terminated in 1918 by the ending of the war.

Cragin Retires as City Deputy

Deputy City Attorney Cragin yesterday announced his withdrawal from that office to become associated with Overton, Lyman & Plumb. He has spent the past four years in City Attorney Stephens' office, during which time he has specialized in handling public-improvement matters.

Mr. Cragin had charge of the city's office in Sacramento during the legislative sessions of 1925 and 1927. In the last session he was instrumental in having adopted an amendment to the public improvement laws whereby property owners are afforded protection from the assessment lien sharks. He also prepared the legal work necessary for the legislation whereby the November ballot will carry the $1,000,000 Los Angeles Olympic bond issue.

Changes Expected to Be Made by Mappers

The redistricting of Los Angeles County, new Councilmanic districts were started by the City Council today to comply with provisions of the city charter which shall be adopted before February 1, next. Not much can be done by the Council on the work, which will start after the November election. The charter provides that the Council shall "comprise as many as practicable equal numbers of persons as determined by the total number of votes cast in said election." The last preceding general election was February 1, next.
The coming November elec-

FIXED BY 1925
The present fifteen districts were fixed and adopted in 1925, following the ruling of the courts that the time they adopted the charter had also voted in the district-representation of the Councilmen, which was on the same ballot. Many years previous to this Los Angeles had a Council of members elected at large.
The charter provides that after redistricting is completed on next February the Council shall thereafter redistrict the county every four years.

NEW CHARGES DUE
The redistricting is provided to change and shifts in population is not probable that there will be any important changes in the present fifteen Councilmanic districts.

President Bonelli appointed as a committee to have charge of the details of this redistricting Councilman Webster, chairman, and Councilmen Hall and Sanborn.

Following a trial of several days recently after which the ruling was taken under submission, Mrs. Helen Odell Sinnicks, Belvedere society matron, yesterday was granted a divorce from her husband, Frank Samuel Sinnicks, by Superior Judge
Shaw.

Mrs. Sinnicks, formerly Miss Helen Longan, of San Francisco,

of age.

The plaintiff charged her husdrinking parties while she was away from home, and that on one occasion he failed to celebrate their wedding anniversary.

Final Service of
E. A. Scheller
Will be today

Funeral services for Edward A.
Scheller, who died yesterday after a six-months' illness, will be conducted at 10:30 a.m. today at St. Brenden's Church, 300 South Van Ness avenue. The services will be in charge of Father Lilly.

Mr. Scheller became ill suddenly six months ago with an obscure and exceptionally rare malady which physicians were unable successfully to combat.

Mr. Scheller was born in Los Angeles July 30, 1890. He was educated at St. Vincent's College, and immediately after his graduation joined his father in the Union Hardware and Metal Company, of which he had been a director since 1921.

At the end of the World War he became active in the American Legion and other post-war fraternities, and was commissioned a lieutenant in Reserve Officers' Corps.
He was an Elk and a Knight of Columbus.

Besides his widow Gladys, Mr.
Scheller leaves two daughters,
Frances and Marie; a son, Edward;
two sisters, Mrs. Genevieve S. Rutledge, San Francisco; Mrs. Marie S.
Mogan, Los Angeles, and his mother, Mrs. Agnes O. Scheller.

The family home is at 287 South
Van Ness avenue.

Autoist Loses
Arm in Crash;
Under Arrest

George C. Ogletree, 29 years of age, residing at 820 South Spring street, is in the prison ward of the General Hospital today with his right arm amputated and facing a charge of suspicion of grand theft.

Ogletree drove down Main street yesterday and at One Hundred and Tenth streets sideswiped a car in which D. P. Jeffries and his wife of 2031 Stevenson street, were driving.
He then crashed into a telephone pole and his own car capsized, pinning him underneath.

At the Georgia-street Hospital
Police Surgeons Savarin and Fau-blan found it necessary to take off his right arm. Police found the car was registered to James A. Stone of 822 East Sixty-first street. They are investigating.

HUSBAND AS TARGET
RESULTS IN DIVORCE

Michael J. McKinnon in Superior Judge Bogue's court yesterday testified that his wife, Mrs. Bertha E. McKinnon would fly into a rage and throw anything that was handy at him. He sought a separation on the grounds of cruelty. Mistakes
she had hurled included knives, an ice pick, a saw, a clock and household utensils, he declared. After hearing the testimony Judge Bogue granted the decree.

NO MONEY PASSED
In this hearing testimony was offered by all parties in the case except Mrs. Bernstein, that no money had been passed to stop the suit.

No bitterness was shown at the divorce hearing, Bernstein, in answer to his attorney's questions whether or not he had been guilty of acts of infidelity with Mrs.
Coogan, mother of the boy screen star, as charged by Mrs. Bernstein, made a sweeping denial. "Absolutely false and untrue," he declared as each charge was named.

Bernstein told the court there had been a property settlement out of court which gave Mrs. Bernstein practically all of the household goods, some jewelry and $250 a month.

The witness denied he has an income of $3000 a month.

SHE FAILED TO VISIT HIM
He asked for a separation from Mrs. Bernstein, declaring that when he was ill in a hospital in Glendale she seldom came to see him. Instead, he said, she attended the night clubs with others. She wouldn't even try to cook any meals or take any interest in the housework.

In all of this testimony, Bernstein was corroborated by his aged mother, Mrs. Sarah Bernstein, who testified for him.

Mrs. Coogan, attired in a black tight-fitting suit trimmed delicately in white, and wearing a small black silk hat, took the witness stand and denied all of the charges made by Mrs. Bernstein, branding all of the assertions as "ridiculous."

Boy Sentenced to 180 Days in Stealing watermelons, tradiboy, can be a serious proposition, Frank Reyes learned yesterday when he was sentenced to serve 180 days in jail for that offense.

Municipal Judge Wilson imposed the sentence when it was shown that Reyes broke into a Southern Pacific box car to get the melons.

WOOD OUSTED FROM COUNCIL

Huntington Park Body Acts Against Member

Prolonged Absence Back of Development

Mosher Appointed to Fill Vacant Seat

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 17.—Although Jack W. Wood was elected as a member of the City Council of four years he is no longer a member of that body as far as the other members are concerned. Wood was present last night at the regular meeting of the Council for the first time in more than three months. Notwithstanding his presence, a resolution was introduced and passed by Mayor Jerome W. Scofield, Councilmen John C. Flick and Elmer E. Cox that the seat be declared vacant on account of the failure of Wood to attend sessions.

Another resolution was then passed which named John A. Mosher as a member of the City Council to take Wood's place. Mosher took the oath of office and Wood was informed that Mosher would assume his place in the Councilmanic body.

POLICE CHIEF CALLED
When informed that he could leave Wood ousted, Chief of Police Will Hultquist was asked to step forward and at this point left the Council chamber.

In April, 1928, Wood and Flick were elected as City Councilmen and Jerome W. Scofield was re-elected, each for a term of four years. The three composed a majority of the Council. The other two members, M. A. Blanchard and Frank Flick, had been elected for four-year terms in April, 1924, having two years yet to serve when Wood, Flick and Scofield were chosen.

Blanchard at that time was Mayor. When Scofield, Flick and Wood took their oaths of office, the board was reorganized, Scofield was chosen as Mayor.

WOOD JOINED MINORITY

In July, 1927, Wood swung over to the minority with the result that Scofield was unseated as Mayor and Blanchard again was chosen. With the approach of the city campaign last April the councilmen of the majority, Scofield, Scofield and Flick, were defeated and Elmer E. Cox was elected to take the place of Scofield and Flick. Wood was present at a meeting a few nights before the city election, on April 9, last, and since then he has been absent until last night.

Uncle Sam Will Declare War on Foraging Jacks

FONTANA, July 17.—That the Federal government is preparing for another war was disclosed today by Dr. Walter P. Taylor of the United States Biological Survey, a visitor here.

However, it was explained, this will be a war without battleships, machine guns or marching soldiers. The object of the attack will be the thousands of jackrabbits which are doing great damage to ranches, especially in the West. Dr. Taylor will remain here for some time, engaging in experiments to determine the best method of coping with this menace.

Dr. Taylor believes that some means will be found for killing off the jackrabbit. It has not yet been determined whether gas will be used in the warfare against them, or whether some other method of wholesale extermination will be used. Dr. Taylor said that he would appreciate suggestions from anyone who has had experience in eradicating wild rabbits. He is making his headquarters at the United States rabbit experimental station here.

BROTHERS SENTENCED FOR FREAK ROBBERY

EL MONTE, July 17.—The culmination of an unusual theft came this morning when Judge F. G. Wilson sentenced Claude and Lloyd Treat to six months each in the County Jail and sent a younger brother, Floyd, to the Juvenile Court for trial.

The robbery occurred on the Ridge Route to Bakersfield when a car, containing the three Treat brothers, who live at Eldorado, followed a machine driven by J. J. Kittress of San Bernardino. Kittress, a salesman, had several suitcases in the back of his roadster and Claude Treat, taking advantage of the slow pace of the car, over the Ridge, jumped out of his car and ran alongside of the Kittress' auto and grabbed one of the suitcases. The youths were traced through the sale of Kittress' watch at Riverside.

TRAFFIC REAPS HEAVY TOLL

Mrs. Harrington Killed, Mrs. Jennings Dangerously Injured in San Diego Mishaps

SAN DIEGO, July 17.—One woman is dead and another is reported dying in the County Hospital as the result of traffic accidents here last night and early today.

The dead woman is Mrs. Marie V. Harrington, 42 years of age, of 4232 Forty-fifth street, killed early last night when she was crushed beneath the wheels of a heavy trailer in Mission Valley.

An all-day hiking excursion in which seventy-five persons participated under the direction of the Community Service, ended tragically when Mrs. Harrington, riding on the trailer of a heavy truck, slipped from her position and fell. The rear wheel of the vehicle passed over her body, killing her instantly, witnesses said. The woman's husband, who was a member of the hiking excursion, witnessed his wife's death. The truck was driven by T. J. Musgrave, 4211 Cleve street. His helper, E. K. Pratt, had warned the hikers against leaving on and off the vehicle just an instant before Mrs. Harrington fell. Mrs. Harrington was taken to the Benbow hospital where she was expected to die at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Struck by a truck at University avenue and Forty-fourth street, shortly before 8 a. m. today, Mrs. W. L. Jennings, 30 years of age, of 3619 Forty-fourth street, was rushed to the County Hospital. Hospital Steward E. G. Fleming and physicians said the victim has little chance for recovery. She is suffering a basal fracture of the skull and possible internal injuries. Richard A. Cattle, 3886 Swift street, driver of the truck which struck Mrs. Jennings, was placed in the City Jail awaiting investigation. He will be held pending the outcome of the woman's injuries, police said. Mrs. Jennings has been employed as a saleswoman at a downtown store and was hurrying to work when the accident occurred. Her husband is said to be a naval man.

New Name Given to High School

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, July 17.—After discussing the matter for several months, it has been decided to change the name of the Lankershim High School to North Hollywood High School. Approval has been given by the Los Angeles Board of Education, despite a report that the student body wanted a name of more militant sound than that of the majority of the personnel of the police department here. Suspension for an indefinite period will punish drinking of liquor on duty, says the order. Chief Prater also sets his foot down on gossiping while in uniform. An evening's smoke must be taken in the seclusion of an alleyway, if at all.

The bulletin reads: "Your first duty is to your fellowman. Deal justice to every purpose and not from any selfish purpose or reason. 'At no place, at no time, nor under any conditions, be guilty of saying anything about the police, especially your brother-officers, with your uniform on, in the way of gossip. 'If you do not want my men to drink on or off duty, but if any one in any rank drinks on duty, he will be suspended for an indefinite period or reason. 'Patrolmen keep on your heels and keep moving. 'If you must smoke, retire to an alley or around the corner of a building.'"

WATER SALES QUESTIONED

Assua Council to Study Transfer of Rights

Committee Appointed to Find Remedy for Situation

City Attorney to Ascertain Legality of Purchases

AZUSA, July 17.—Asserted mis-handling of water rights attached to land here was brought to light last night at a session of the City Council. The problem developed through reported sales of water rights originally apportioned to land in this district and the demands of present owners of land thus deprived of water. A committee and investigate water stock which has been transferred from its original location and to take steps to have such stock returned to its original location and to take steps for allotment to the land now without water.

One case advanced as an example cited that 4000 worth of city water shares had been sold from acreage in the southwestern part of the city. The present owners of this land are now demanding water and the city is confronted with the problem of returning the original rights to the land.

Two shares of water rights were apportioned to each acre of land in the city, and the Council wants all transferred water rights made available for original locations. It is also desired that further selling of water rights be prohibited, and to this end, City Attorney Techner has been instructed to ascertain whether water shares allotted to lands are being sold.

If sales of water rights are illegal, the Council will take immediate action against property owners who have relinquished their holdings. There will be an attempt to have the purchase money or the stock returned to the city so that the civic officials, in turn, may let such water rights that have been transferred to the locations for which the water was originally intended.

AIRPORT FUND REQUESTED

Ballou Tract of 160 Acres Suggested to County Supervisors as Desirable Landing Field

VENTURA, July 17.—The county airport project was brought near to realization today when the Board of Supervisors was requested to set aside $25,000 in this year's budget for acquiring and developing the necessary facilities.

The Ballou tract of 160 acres just south of the Southern Pacific railroad tracks at Montevallo, was the site recommended by a County Chamber of Commerce committee, which has been studying the question for a year. Under the plan worked out by the committee, the land would be leased for ninety-nine years, rentals would be at the rate of 4 per cent on $100,000 for the first year, then increasing to 5 per cent. At the end of twenty years the land might be purchased, should the county elect, at a price of $100,000. This option would continue in force for the next thirty years with the rental rate increasing to 6 and finally to 7 per cent in the event the county was not to buy. At any time the county could revoke the lease by paying for any damages done the land.

The site was pronounced by the committee the most desirable suggested during the survey. Of the 160 acres, sixty lie in the river bottom and 100 is tillable. A four-way field, capable of accommodating the largest ships, would be provided. Physically, it was pointed out, the airport could qualify for the highest rating.

From the airman's viewpoint the field is desirable in that it lies on the Southern Pacific main line, on the main Coast highway, on the river and only a short distance from the ocean beach.

From the standpoint of Ventura county population, the field was regarded as a greater asset than the number of people than any other.

SKUNK STARTS COMMOTION

Neighborhood Calls Justice of Peace to Evict Intruder and With Aid of Trusty Constables, the Unwelcome Animal Departs

GLENDAL, July 17.—Justice Harry W. Chase today closed his office and sallied forth to preserve peace in his district, following a call from a frantic householder, advising him that the garage at the Charles Casler home at 1417 Stanley avenue had been invaded by a skunk.

Summoning his two deputies, Constables Clarence Epps and George Bankston, Judge Chase led his forces to the Casler yard and employed them in accordance with the accepted rules of strategy. Epps, armed with a small rifle, stood by watchfully waiting while Bankston opened the garage door and backed it out by hand, being careful not to excite the skunk. The animal started its bombardment until he got out of range.

For a while the animal hid behind a box and opened fire on it. The skunk rejoined its ancestors in aromatic fragrance of the moment, but finally Epps discovered it hiding behind a box and opened fire on it. The Casler family left the garage door open until the place could be sufficiently aired.

JURY FREES RUM AGENT IN SHOOTING

Coroner's Body Exonerates Liquor Officer Knight in Killing of Villegas

SANTA MARIA, July 17.—Exonerated of R. L. Knight, Federal prohibition officer, who shot and killed Jose Villegas, 40 years of age, last Saturday evening, was granted by the Coroner's jury sitting on the case here.

Knight and an undercover agent received two kegs of moonshine from Villegas and his companion, Yandro Gomez, 18, on a ranch road three miles north of Nimpo Saturday about 7 p. m. When Knight placed Villegas in the car and started to drive it toward the officer, it struck the car door before he could bring it into action. Knight then shot him in the abdomen with a .45-caliber pistol.

The two prohibition officers brought the injured man here, where he died on the operating table of a local hospital. Gomez was placed in jail and will come up before United States Commissioner Brazil in San Luis Obispo, charged with possession of liquor.

At the inquest conducted by Acting Coroner L. J. Merris, testimony was given by Knight, Gomez, Chief of Police W. T. Fel and Capt. Harry Johnson of the local police department, and J. K. Stephenson, newspaper reporter. The latter testified that he saw Knight shoot Villegas before he died and that he had no intention of shooting it. The jury declared that Officer Knight was justified in shooting Villegas, particularly because the Mexican apparently attempted to use his gun.

Traffic Cop Helps Couple Get Married

FULLERTON, July 17.—Sam Dunbar and Charlie Treize, Glendale, his bride-to-be, had twenty-three minutes to reach the Courthouse at Santa Ana, they explained to Traffic Officer John Treize yesterday after they had been held up by a traffic jam on a fifteen-mile zone at forty-three miles an hour.

"Bring the marriage license with you when you come back and the license at 6:30 p. m. At the police station, Treize suggested that, as long as the judge was right there, they might as well get it done."

Dunbar and the prospective bride related to their car for five minutes of private discussion of this suggestion.

"Whoopee! Call the judge!" he shouted. The ceremony was performed at the police station with the judge presiding and police officers as witnesses.

The traffic officer signed a second ticket and the wedding was completed. "You're just the nicest traffic cop ever met," praised Mrs. Dunbar, everlastingly departing.
